MESSAGES FROM THE GOSPEL OF JOHN

February 19-22, 2006

“Meet Me at Teague!”

Lectureship is not only about classes and lectures, but also about the friendships renewed with sisters and brothers from around the world. Lectureship also is about sharing a cup of coffee, talking about grandchildren and special church plans, and discovering what else is happening among our congregations. Much of that happens during Lectureship at the Teague Special Events Center, where you can find exhibits, food and drink, and friendly conversation. Each evening,

WACU serves pie and coffee with all proceeds going to student scholarships. We hope you will say to friends, “Meet me at Teague!”

88th Annual BIBLE LECTURESHIP

LETTER from the PRESIDENT

The occasion of the university's Centennial allows us to reflect on those things that have shaped our journey. Clearly, calling Christians to gather around Scripture has taken center stage on this campus.

In keeping with this commitment, the annual Bible Lectureship has shaped both this university and our fellowship among Churches of Christ in impressive ways.

Year after year, Lectureship calls us to gather around the Bible as we seek renewal for the ongoing work of restoring biblical Christianity.

Lectureship also serves as a forum where important, timely and even difficult subjects can be discussed in Christian love. In recent years, Lectureship forums have addressed issues related to reconciliation. We met to discuss important matters related to racial healing and to build bridges of dialogue and understanding with International Churches of Christ.

This year, Lectureship will host the Restoration Unity Forum, an annual gathering for those of the Stone-Campbell heritage who are interested in keeping the unity dream of our movement alive. We are pleased to host this important conversation.

Our commitment is to the truth of God made available to us through his son, Jesus. In turn, our commitment to the One who prayed for the unity of his followers reminds us that pursuit of reconciliation and discovery of the truth often go hand in hand. My prayer is that the activities of this week will further impress on us the words of Jesus, "You shall know the truth, and the truth shall set you free."

ROYCE MONEY

President, Abilene Christian University

LETTER from the DIRECTOR

Etched above the entry of the Bible wing of the Hardin Administration Building are the great words of Jesus from the Gospel of John: "You Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Set You Free." For generations, students, faculty and staff at Abilene Christian University have walked the campus under the watchful guidance of this great teaching.

Surely the enterprise of Christian education finds its center in the quest for both the truth and the freedom that come from knowing Jesus. It is fitting that these words occupy our attention as we gather during ACU's Centennial year for the 88th annual Bible Lectureship.

This year's Lectureship marks the end of an era. This will be our final gathering in February. Beginning Sept. 17-20, 2006, Lectureship will find a new fall home on the university calendar.

We leave February with mixed emotions. While looking forward to the new possibilities related to a September Lectureship, we also remember with fondness all we have shared together in February – even the unpredictable weather.

Faithfulness in transition always involves looking to Jesus. So, we will tie the last February Lectureship with the first September gathering by focusing on the Gospel of John at both. We will travel with Jesus through the first half of the gospel in February and finish the gospel together in September. We hope you will be with us for the entire Gospel of John.

RESTORATION UNITY FORUM

Each year, the ACU Lectureship features conversations designed to promote greater understanding and unity where there has been strife and division. This year not only marks ACU's Centennial, but also the centennial of the religious census that recognized the split between the Church of Christ and Christian Churches. We cannot celebrate our heritage without also seeking to heal old wounds and renew friendships in the Gospel. With that spirit in mind, this year's Lectureship will also host the annual Restoration Forum. The Restoration Forum is an annual meeting that, since 1984, has brought together Christians from the churches of the Stone-Campbell Movement and others concerned with answering Christ's prayer for the visible unity of His followers for discussion, dialogue, worship and fellowship. The Forums have been an important factor in the increased desire for and realization of reconciliation between estranged sisters and brothers as we enter the 21st century.

THE GOSPEL OF JOHN and Songs for Worship

Recent years have seen an explosion of new songs and choruses added to the rich deposit of hymns that have served congregations for generations. Still, worship leaders know that many biblical themes are not well represented in our song catalogues and that some parts of Scripture captured the imagination of hymn writers more than others.

This year, we are gathering songwriters to focus on the gospel of John. Each day, we will feature a class that puts the great themes of John in dialogue with those who are gifted with both words and music. Jack Reese (Abilene, Texas) and Ike Gaul (Portland, Ore.) will host this class at 8:30 a.m. in Williams Performing Arts Center, Room 145 (Muns Choral Rehearsal Hall). We pray that this conversation will enrich the church.

LUX ET TENEBRAE: Light and Darkness in Sacred Music

Music has long held a mysterious ability to sound shadowy or brilliant, but what are the theological implications of this ability as it relates to sacred music? A panel of theology and music faculty from ACU will discuss this issue by using specific examples of works to be performed by ACU's A Cappella Chorus concert Monday evening. Join Frederick Aquino (Abilene, Texas), Michael Scarbrough (Abilene, Texas) and Greg Straughn (Abilene, Texas) at 2 p.m. Monday afternoon in the Williams Performing Arts Center, Room 145 (Muns Choral Rehearsal Hall).

THE DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC PRESENTS

INTERPRETIVE ART POSTERS INSPIRED BY THE GOSPEL OF JOHN

Works in this exhibit are personal visual responses to the book of John. Alumni from and students majoring in the art and design department of ACU have created these original spiritual pieces. They represent the genre of art posters and reflect the recent resurgence of interest in this type of creative expression. Art posters, unlike those that are mass-produced and often possess little artistic merit, are generally bold and unique statements, the result of a much more personally expressive approach.

The particular works in this exhibit each incorporate elements of both typography and imagery. And, although the processes and various media that contributed to each work's creation may differ, the final posters must meet uniform size restrictions and be printed digitally.

The result is an extraordinary show that not only showcases the talent of students and recent graduates from the Department of Art and Design, but more important, provides a fresh vision and imaginative visual insights to intrigue and inspire the gallery visitor.

MYSTERION: BEHOLD I TELL YOU A MYSTERY

God's mysteries are announced by angels and seen with eyes of faith. Followers such as Mary ponder them in the heart. Saints such as Stephen are martyrs to preserve them for us. Come ponder anew the mysteries through art, music, scripture and song in "Behold I Tell You A Mystery"

Williams Performing Arts Center, Room 184 (Fulks Theatre)
Sunday, Monday and Tuesday evening, 8:45 p.m.

Praise and Prayer

At Lectureship we gather to experience worship in its rich variety.

Take advantage of the following opportunities:

Morning Prayers

Start each day centered in God. Join us each day at 8 a.m. in the Chapel on the Hill for morning prayers and devotion.

Worship and Song

Each evening at 6:15 p.m. in Moody Coliseum, we will gather for praise to prepare us for the evening's worship with inspirational singing. We are excited to have two outstanding student groups bring us together in praise: The Ministry and Come As You Are.

ZOE Group

At each of the evening lectures, Brandon Scott Thomas and the ZOE Group (Nashville, Tenn.) will serve us in worship. Additionally, the Zoe Group will lead late night praise on Monday evening in Moody Coliseum immediately after the evening lecture.

Old-Time Singing

Join the saints who gather every year to sing those hymns that have stood the test of time. Gene Linder will again lead the singing at 3:15 p.m. each day in the Chapel on the Hill. Don't miss this chance to sing your old favorites.

"Come to the Quiet"

A season of song, prayer and contemplation. This rich service of worship will be marked by prayer, simple meditative songs, reading of the Word, commitment to the ministry of reconciliation in the world, and a time for silence. The call to watch, pray, listen and wait has been at the heart of worship from the beginning of Christianity. Late night following the evening lecture, Sunday and Tuesday in the Chapel on the Hill.

"Meeting the Women Who Followed Jesus": A Dramatic Reading

"Don't be afraid." That's what He said, over and over. Don't be afraid. But the rising panic washes over them like a wave. Fear chokes them. Darkness crushes them. Dazzling light and suffocating blackness have criss-crossed their lives with horror and wonder. But this morning, there is only blackness. On this Sabbath after the crucifixion, the women who traveled with Jesus defy the darkness all that day and through the night. Drawing strength from each other, they begin their struggle to understand Jesus' life and death. Their good news shows light even in the darkness, pulls us back from the nightmare edge and gives us hope and purpose in a community of faith. Join the women from Edgemere Church of Christ, Sunday in the Williams Performing Arts Center, Room 111 (Recital Hall) after the evening lecture.

The Women from Edgemere Church of Christ

Gospel and Culture

In a post-Christian culture, we can no longer assume an "if we build it, they will come" mentality of church life. We must recover a sense that the church is a missionary community sent into the world. Missionary work requires both deeper notions of the gospel and fresh readings in the culture. This year's Lectureship is committed to both gospel and culture.

Gospel and Culture COFFEE HOUSE

What conversations might the gospel have with popular culture? After the main lecture each evening, bring a friend for a late-night cup of coffee and a dialogue between the gospel and contemporary culture. (Bean Sprout, downstairs, McGlothlin Campus Center)

CHURCH PLANTING: VISIONS OF THE EMERGING CHURCH

In a culture becoming more diverse each day, new congregations are vital to reach the many groups of people beyond our present reach. Planting new churches not only expands our outreach to these people, it often brings fresh vision for how life in God's Kingdom can be lived. As in years past, classes on church planting hope to encourage this important movement.

Mercy and Justice

"What does the Lord require of you? To act justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God" (Micah 6:8). These words ring through Scripture and make clear God's expectation that his people will pursue mercy and justice in the world. Beginning this year, this Lectureship track will reflect this divine expectation.

Marketplace Faith

In recent years, marketplace ministries have become increasingly prominent. Largely a grassroots movement, the proliferation of these ministries indicates both the desire for Christians to see their work as service to God and an increasing sense of being aliens in a non-Christian culture. We believe this movement deserves both the attention and support of church leaders. We hope you will benefit from our new Lectureship track, "Marketplace Faith."

How can the church and Christian universities encourage Christians to see their everyday lives as godly vocation? It's easy to think of prophets, apostles, or even present day ministers as being called to the work of God in the world. But what about accountants, carpenters or airline attendants?

Brecheen and Faulkner

Countless marriages have been impacted for good through the work of Carl Brecheen and Paul Faulkner. Together, they have conducted Marriage Enrichment Seminars around the world. Combining biblical and counseling insights with humor and candor, these seminars have inspired healthy marriage habits for couples. We are pleased they have agreed to teach a Lectureship class this year, distilling much of their well-honed wisdom into three hours of presentation. We know you will want to join us as we honor them for their outstanding contributions in strengthening marriages.

"This book captures the vision of the crucial leaders of the churches of Christ in their efforts to restore the faith and life of the first century church while utilizing methods suitable to the twentieth century... The church is always well-served when its people possess both a prophetic vision and a historian's wisdom. If we are willing and perceptive, this timely volume can assist us in developing both of these elusive attributes."

"Every now and then a book comes along that demands our attention because of its compelling relevancy. This is such a book. With language that is tender, confessional, and candid, Reese examines the causes of our fragmentation and our inability to have meaningful dialogue.
